The Air Cadet League of Canada Announces 2015 National Effective Speaking Competition Winner

OTTAWA, ON (July 3, 2015) – The Air Cadet League of Canada (ACL) congratulates Warrant Officer Second Class (WO2) Jarred Allison from 101 Moncton Squadron, representing the New Brunswick Committee, as the winner of the League’s National Effective Speaking Competition held on June 18, 2015, in Edmonton, Alberta.

Jarred has been an active member of 101 Moncton RCACS since 2009, and has done everything his squadron has to offer including the marksmanship, biathlon and band. He has also instructed the local flying scholarship course and has been New Brunswick’s model aircraft display competition gold medalist for two years standing. He is an active member of the Moncton Area Amateur Radio Operators Club, volunteers at a local senior’s residence, and helps to organize and set up events for the Alzheimer’s Society of New Brunswick. Jarred is an avid flyer, accomplishing both his power and glider wings. In the future, Jarred would like to study zoology, and in his later years become a wildlife scientist to better humanity’s understanding of our planet.

“Participating in the 2015 National Effective Speaking Competition in Edmonton was an experience like no other and I loved every second of it”, Jarred said following his win.

Thank you to WestJet, our sponsor, who was able to provide Jarred and all national finalists from across Canada with airfare. We would also like to recognize our patrons, Toastmasters and Mr. Brock Mason LLB.

The Air Cadet League of Canada is a civilian non-profit community based and volunteer led organization, which in collaboration with the Department of National Defence and our other partners, is dedicated to supporting the objectives of the Royal Canadian Air Cadet program, and to developing in youth the attributes of good citizenship and leadership; promoting physical fitness; and stimulating the interest of youth in the aviation and aerospace industry, including the air element of the Canadian Forces
