

Lieutenant Colonel David G. Lamb, CD (Retired)

David Lamb grew up in Tisdale, Saskatchewan where he attended Air Cadets and received a flying scholarship obtaining a private pilot license. This started his flying career. He served as a pilot in the Royal Canadian Air Force and Canadian Forces in the Regular Force and the Reserves between 1964 and 2001. David served two overseas peace keeping tours, in Egypt with the United Nations Emergency Force and a one-year tour with the United Nations Military Observer Group India and Pakistan. He flew the DC-3 with Search and Rescue and later flew Kiowa helicopters in a tactical role. David finished his military career with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel as the Commanding Officer of 402 "City of Winnipeg" Squadron where he flew the Dash-8 aircraft.

While flying for the Air Force Reserve David flew for Air Canada where after 32 years he retired as a Training Captain. He has over 22,000 flying hours and has flown over 40 different types of aircraft.

Lieutenant Colonel Lamb is now retired in Tisdale and is the Chairman of the Air Cadet League of Canada, Saskatchewan Provincial Committee. He is also a director with the Saskatchewan Aviation Council. David is married to Marlien Fecyk-Lamb. They have three children and six precious grandchildren. He and Marlien fly their home-built aircraft for recreation.
